

FREE Coaching on Personal Mastery!

Trainer Michael Rosso Offers Life Coaching for Grads & Families

hoiceCenter Leadership University will offer an evening of FREE COACHING with Discovery and Masters trainer Michael Rosso on Wednesday, June 10th, from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. PST.

Rosso will lead ChoiceCenter grads and guests in learning more about themselves and their character in the pursuit of personal mastery as it relates to business, relationships, health and more.

Following some guided interactions, the remainder of the evening will be devoted to open coaching. Perhaps you'd love for a master trainer to support you to navigate an area where you historically struggle to make progress. Perhaps you are dealing with issues of control or are experiencing a lack of control due to current circumstances. Is there an area where you continuously come up short? Do you get caught up in internal conversations where you sabotage your results with chatter that says you're not good enough? Are you avoiding taking a risk you feel will likely pay off but simply don't have the courage to put yourself out there? All of these conversations and more are available for discussion.

To join this powerful Zoom call, please register at www.choicecenter.com The day of the workshop, go to zoom.us, click Join Meeting and type in the access code you will receive post registration. See you there!
